

BELLEVILLE SENATORS™

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – JULY 11th, 2017

The Belleville Senators announce the historic schedule for their inaugural 2017-2018 AHL season

The Belleville Senators are set to launch their inaugural season in the Bay of Quinte with the announcement of all home and away fixtures for the historic 2017-2018 American Hockey League season.

“We are delighted to announce our schedule and we share in the excitement of all Bay of Quinte hockey fans after seeing it,” said Rob Mullowney, Chief Operating Officer of the Belleville Senators. “Hockey fans in this community, particularly season ticket holders, are going to see a level of hockey and excitement like they have never seen before. Our first season will be layered with moments that you will not want to miss.”

The team will play their first game on October 6th, 2017 in Laval against the Rocket in what will be their own debut upon relocation to Quebec. The game will take place at 7:30PM in Place Bell arena. The Senators will return home after nine games on the road to play the first professional hockey game in Bay of Quinte history on November 1st, 2017. Host to the defending Eastern Conference Champion Syracuse Crunch, the game will begin at 7:00PM in the newly remodeled Yardmen Arena. This homestead continues on the weekend with back-to-back games against Charlotte Checkers on the 3rd and 4th as part of seven straight home games.

The Belleville Senators will play in the North Division of the Eastern Conference. Within this group, the team will play the Toronto Marlies six times at home. We will welcome the Marlies first on December 1st, 2017 and again five more times in 2018. We will also play them six times on the road, including a feature Boxing Day matinee at the Air Canada Centre, again on New Year’s Eve to wrap up the calendar year and finally on April 14th, 2018 to conclude our first regular season in existence.

Coming from the other end of Highway 401, the team will face le Rocket de Laval for six home and away games as well. Starting on the road, the two franchises will play the first two games in their history against each other, opening Place Bell to the world in the process. At home in the Bay of Quinte, the Rocket will play the first of their six games at the Yardmen Arena first on November 29th.

The team will also welcome the Rochester Americans (Buffalo Sabres), Binghamton Devils (New Jersey Devils) and Syracuse Crunch (Tampa Bay Lightning) four times each, and the Utica Comets (Vancouver Canucks) three times to round out divisional play at the Yardmen Arena. This will include a home game on Family Day against the Crunch and our final home game of the regular season on April 14th when the Comets are in town. Outside of our division, we will welcome the remaining Canadian AHL team in the Manitoba Moose (Winnipeg Jets) on two occasions, December 15th, 2017 and January 24th, 2018, as well as original six affiliates in the Providence Bruins (Boston Bruins) on December 30th, 2017 and Hartford Wolf Pack (New York Rangers) on January 13th, 2018.

The majority of these home games, 33 of 38, will take place on Wednesday (10), Friday (10) and Saturday (13) evenings throughout the season. Each of these will begin at 7:00PM. The team will also play two Sunday matinee games at 3:00PM, and one game on each of Monday (Family Day), Tuesday and Thursday, at home. Monthly, there are nine games (0 home, 9 away) in October, thirteen games (8 home, 5 away) in November, twelve games (7 home, 5 away) in December, twelve games (8 home, 4 away) in January, twelve games (6 home, 6 away) in February, eleven games (6 home, 6 away) in March and six games (3 home, 3 away) in April. The final home game is on April 14th, 2018, before finishing the season on the road the next day.

The entire 2017-2018 Belleville Senators Inaugural Season Schedule can be found below. The best and only way to guarantee access to each of these games is through the purchase of season tickets, which range from $859.73 to $1,023.97 (taxes included). Many very good seats still remain. We encourage fans to download our schedule directly into their own calendar by accessing www.stanza.co/@bellevillesens
